Caroline:

We understand that Secretary Zinke has not yet been able to confirm his participation at the AOGA conference in Alaska on May 31. If he is able to participate and can fit it into his schedule, we would be delighted to host the Secretary and anyone travelling with him at our BP facilities on the North Slope during the time immediately preceding the conference. We view such an opportunity as an excellent chance for the Secretary to see these facilities first-hand in the company of our executives. Please let me know whether such a trip to the north slope may be included in his itinerary.

Many thanks and best regards,

David

Subject: Invitation to Secretary Zinke to visit BP operations on the Alaska north slope

For Caroline Boulton, Scheduler for Secretary Zinke

Dear Caroline:

We understand that Secretary Zinke will be in Alaska to speak at the Alaska Oil and Gas Association (AOGA) Conference on May 31. As we mentioned during our visit last week with Deputy Assistant Secretary MacGregor, and as our President and CEO John Minge has said to Secretary Zinke, we would be delighted if the Secretary could come up to the north slope to visit and view first-hand our BP Alaska operations. It seems that his visit to Alaska at the end of this month might provide a good opportunity. I would be grateful if you could let me know how best to go about issuing an invitation and making this happen. We can of course provide you with any information you require. Please let me know the best approach. Many thanks and I look forward to hearing from you.

Very best regards,

David
